The Complete Staffing Agency Guide to Background Screenings

ASURINT
BACKGROUND SCREENING SOLUTIONS

Staffing is a highly competitive field. To stand out, an agency must fill every position quickly and with the best available talent, but it's always a challenge.

Each industry—and often each client—has its own set of candidate requirements, and recruiters push through high volumes of applicants. Yet a staffing company can afford no mistakes, no compliance issues and certainly no background check oversights.

Fortunately, there are options for conducting the swift, thorough, client-specific background investigations your business depends on.

FIND THE FAST LANE

Speed matters in background investigations. After all, recruiters hate losing candidates because they couldn't complete the requisite screenings quickly enough.

That's why Asurint has developed faster, more comprehensive background check capabilities. We've benchmarked our results against the industry standard, and our screenings for clients are delivered in under a day, on average—24 to 36 hours faster than the typical background search in the job placement sector.¹

Plus, we do more to accelerate results, optimizing all the details of the background investigation process with:

INSTANT CLEARS²

Historically, turnaround times were slow due to the manual-intensive labor of retrieving court files during a background search. But with Asurint's smart proprietary technology, we've been working with the court systems to make the process faster. Asurint's Direct Court Access gives us coverage that spans about 85% of the U.S. population of those candidates who could be cleared. Same-day hiring is possible!

ATS INTEGRATION

Asurint has integrated with nearly every major ATS software. Recruiters can use the familiar tracking system to request background checks and act on the results as part of a seamless workflow.

ADJUDICATION AUTOMATION

The days of manually sifting through background reports are over. With the Candidate Adjudication Assistant (CAA) staffers view only relevant results. You create criminal record hiring matrices and then select the right one for a particular search. CAA will automatically flag records with associated offenses for a laser-focused review.

TRAINING AND SUPPORT

Never lose time because a team member is struggling to use the Asurint system. Our Screen Team is here to answer any questions you have with premier client support with multi-channel, personalized customer service and comprehensive training.

²A "clear" is when a candidate's background search comes back with no reportable criminal history.

THE THREE Cs

OF BACKGROUND INVESTIGATIONS

Speed is important, but there are other factors that define an effective background check. Staffing firms must reflect the screening requirements of numerous different clients, get a more complete picture on every candidate, and collaborate with employers to make hiring decisions only on background information they are legally permitted to consider.

We call these the “three Cs” of background search. Here is how we outperform on them all.

CUSTOMIZED

Each staffing agency client has requirements for employment background investigations. For some, a standard seven-year criminal report is sufficient. Others require license verifications, credit history checks, or other screenings.

Many staffing companies juggle dozens or even hundreds of different client search profiles, complicating the screening process and increasing the likelihood of human error and delays.

Asurint tames the chaos. We partner with you to encapsulate background search parameters for each of the companies and/or industries you serve in a custom screening package. We then build these search profiles into the system for point-and-click access. Recruiters no longer need to manually select which searches to run for a particular candidate. They can pick the client or industry by name, and the proper background investigation is initiated automatically.

COMPREHENSIVE

An Asurint background investigation is incredibly thorough. In fact, we return 15% more records on our staffing industry screenings than the competition, so you never miss a critical background-related issue.³

How do we do it? First of all, we don't rely on the candidate for address history. Using name and social security number information, Asurint's automated search network compiles a complete residency report to help ensure we locate more records from all associated jurisdictions.

From there, our proprietary search engine intelligently recommends the best background search for the individual. Each county and state handles records differently, but our automated and nimble tech navigates the complexity to conduct the most comprehensive background check.⁴

COMPLIANT

The final step in an Asurint background check is compliance. All results are filtered through a continually updated compliance engine reflecting current local, state, and federal laws pertaining to background investigations. Asurint delivers only the data that we can legally report. Our compliance engine also takes steps to ensure the information we report may be used by agency personnel and their clients in hiring decisions. It's a level of protection many other screening providers can't match.
